

ENERGY INFORMATION

Greetings From Glenn August 1st 2006

The Photon Energy has been fairly consistent and the Earth consciousness is basking in change. There are odd shifts of energy from her but nothing extreme up to now.

There is more happening to living beings. Elementals energy engines that work with the Mother Earth to maintain stability with her surface energy, are beginning to be born into more normal cycles and in adequate numbers so we may see change in our environment and perhaps pollution.

Humans are starting to become more stable in selves less affected by negative energy and so communication to the Universe/God is more secure and whether we need the spirit guide system is a question. We are able to trust more in our environment, our selves, the Universe/God, and others around us.

Our next step in change is to look at the amount of toxins being pushed into our systems by chemical companies and drug companies. There will be a natural shift in these groups and I hope that is enough.

It is interesting all the negative energy pushed into human beings for many thousands of years is by the natural process of intake of Photon energy, allowing the release from the body of that negative energy or toxins or emotions. So awareness of toxic intake is important such as food enhancers/vaccine /antibiotics etc.
